MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY

Commencement Week at Ann Arbor, the Second Largest 'Varsity in America.

Awarding Diplomas—Success of Former British Columbians—Vale! Vale!

[From Our Own Correspondent.]

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 28.—This has been the gala week of the flower city. The great University this week is sending forth her children to take their place in the affairs of life. The second in size of the great universities of America, with nearly nineteen hundred students, parts this year with four hundred and thirty-eight. This large number is composed of persons drawn from the four quarters of the globe. They come from Japan, from Canada, from England, from Russia and Germany, almost every state of the Union is represented; Turkey even has a representative, and British Columbia, although not represented by the calendar, is not without interest in the graduating class of '89, for one of the graduates in law, Robie L. Reid, who passed many pleasant years in the Pacific province, feels himself a foster child of that pleasant land. Others, though not graduating, look that way with friendly feeling. John C. McClennan who was a member of the teaching profession in British Columbia for some years, passed successfully the sessional examinations of the junior year in the law department. If these lines should meet the eyes of any of the merry crowd of young men and women who passed the examinations in the Legislative halls in July, 1885, these two above mentioned wish to convey to them and to the department of education, under whose guidance they labored in after years, their most cordial greetings. Besides these, Mr. Daniel Dwyer, well known in New Westminster, passed successfully the sessional examinations of the freshman year in medicine. He has left and is now rusticating at his home in Pennsylvania.

Commencement week, which strangely enough is the end of the school year, begins on Sunday evening by an address to the graduation class by President Angell. In earnest tones he pointed out the pitfalls and snares for the unwary feet of the heedless and the ideals which the minds of those who were about to leave should follow. Different exercises of the different classes follow in rapid succession till Thursday, when the diplomas are delivered and with glad hearts the students leave for home. The great hall of the university during this week is draped with the yellow and blue, the colors of the college; bunting is flying, and every thing and every body are in their prettiest dress and their sweetest smiles. Among the surging crowds which throng the broad campus may be seen a few fair maidens whose smiles are more wistful than merry. To them, the glory and glitter of graduation means, not gladness and friendly meeting, but sorrow and parting from some manly young fellow with whom they have in the soft shade of the moonlight wandered through "shoolgirls glen" or tripped the light fantastic toe at the junior hop. But after a few tears, a little waiting, others will take their places and drive the sorrow away from their gentle hearts. So runs the world away.

"Absence makes the heart grow fonder, Fonder of the other fellow."

The whole business culminates on Thursday when the diplomas are presented. At half-past nine the campus is crowded by groups of excited students. Soon they are formed in line, two deep, on the long walks in front of the various departments. In these lines every man has his place and if those places are not kept there is trouble. Soon the blare of a brass band is heard and soon comes past us, followed by the dental students, then the homeopathic students, then the pharmacy students, followed by the laws, the medics and lastly the students in the department of literature, science and the arts. This order is invariable and is the reverse of the order of the founding of the various departments. The march goes down the campus on to State street and thence to the door of the main building. There the various departments stop in the order as they have been marching, and separate. The "lit." department in the rear keeps on and passes through the files and, preceded by the faculty, pass on to the great hall and take their places. Then the "medics" fall in, grouped at by the "laws" with whom, for some inexplicable reason, there is and always has been implacable hatred. The different departments fall in now and march up to the hall, the dental students bringing up the rear. In the hall, which will seat 3,500 people, is a scene beautiful as young faces and all the bewitching drapery with which youth loves to surround itself, can make it. Around the stage are the graduating classes, almost an audience in themselves. On the stage, the faculty and the regents of the university—while filling up every available inch outside are the friends of those who are to be honored. Every inch of that vast auditorium is crowded.

Then follows an oration by some eminent man, this year by the Hon. J. M. D. Curry, of Virginia, formerly U. S. minister to Spain. Then a great rack filled with diplomas is brought in by two men and for nearly two hours there is a constant stream of graduates marching up to the stage, getting the symbol of their past work and retiring, smiling, to their seats. Sweet girl graduates are there, some with golden hair, and others with less be-poetized but just as beautiful hirsute adornment. At least, all have their diplomas, and with a benediction we leave the pleasant walls of our alma mater, and with much handshaking, good wishes and all the rest, take our farewells, perhaps never again to meet till we meet before the judgment seat above.

"To meet, to know, to love and then to part,
Is the sad tale of many a human heart."

Sordidness and meanness there may be in this world; crime and sorrow; broken pledges and misspent lives; bocdelism in politics and all the evils which to a greater or less extent follow free governments; but there is hope for the republic while her institutions are sending forth to take a part in life's work thousands of such men as have gone forth this week from the walls of the university of Michigan. High ideals and firm hope; courage that dares defeat; trust in the good God which has given them such opportunities; noble hearts and well-trained minds burning with patriotism, all are there. All! noble young hearts, the world needs you. Go forth and dare the conflict, and though your path will not be strewn with roses yet thy fresh hope in man and thy country will not be in vain. If the world hardens thee, it will soften in the process and will be the better for thy living and doing and daring. Vale! vale!

A Good Move.

The police intend to strictly enforce the law against persons leaving their horses unhitched in the street. A case in this respect figured in court this morning and a summons for a like offence has been issued against another party. The law on the subject is plain and should be enforced without fear or favor.

VANCOUVER NEWS.

Real Estate—School Matters—Street Railway—Striking Carpenters.

[From our own Correspondent.]

Vancouver, July 5.—As an outcome of the late regatta several challenges have been issued and more boat racing is likely to take place in the near future.

A new steamboat is about to be constructed at Moodyville.

A consignment of rails for the Vancouver street railway company has arrived from St. Louis, Mo., and the work of laying them will be proceeded with at once. Tenders have been accepted for the erection of the company's stable on Westminster avenue beyond False Creek, and the work of constructing the cars will be commenced immediately.

The school board held its first session of the year in the city hall last evening. A communication was read from J. N. Muir stating that he had been informed that some candidates for entrance to the high school had been prevented from completing the examination and asking that steps be taken to rectify the wrong if any existed and prevent its recurrence.

The school reports for the month of June were handed in and showed the actual attendance during the month to have been as follows:

East End school—First division, 52; 2nd division, 115; 3rd division, 69; 4th division, 123. Total, 359.

West End school—First division, 54; 2nd division, 60; 3rd division, 60; 4th division, 71. Total, 245.

False Creek school, 99.

Total combined attendance, 703.

It was decided to advertise in the local papers for two male vice-principals, one for the East and one for the West End schools.

Miss A. M. Robinson was appointed first assistant in False Creek school. Mr. Law was appointed to the principalship and Miss Hastney to the assistant principalship of the Central school.

The members of the Carpenters' Union, numbering about 220, still continue on a strike. About twenty-six contractors have intimated their willingness to accede to their demands.

Real estate continues active and several large sales have been effected within the past few days. Among the large sales was that of the Bell-Irving block on Cordova street, which brought $36,500. It was purchased by Mr. D. Douglass Dick, a wealthy Scotch gentleman.

The ship George Thompson, Captain Barnston, sailed this morning with a cargo of lumber for Melbourne.

The C. H. Tupper has about completed taking on board the telegraph cable which is to connect with the Sandwich islands.

COUNTY COURT.

(Before the Chief Justice and a Jury.)

Bowen vs. Noble—This was an action brought by plaintiff against Henry Noble, proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, for a return of a bank draft for $160, a gold watch, chain and locket, and a revolver and a box of cartridges, which the defendant had come into possession of under the following circumstances: The plaintiff had been boarding at the defendant's hotel from the 19th April till the 4th June. Between the 22nd April and the 18th May the plaintiff had paid the defendant $217.25. About the latter end of May the defendant asked plaintiff for the payment of an account amounting to $160. On 28th May the defendant obtained a draft for $160, from Messrs. Garesche, Green & Co., on the First National Bank, Seattle. On the night of the 31st May, leaving his baggage, some furniture, and a revolver, etc., at the Commercial hotel, he took a ticket for Seattle and went on board the Olympian, and went to bed. Early next morning the defendant accompanied by two policemen went on board the steamer and the defendant entered the plaintiff's stateroom and awakened the plaintiff and ordered him to get up and go with them. Believing himself to be under arrest, the plaintiff got up and proceeded with the defendant and policeman to the Commercial hotel. Before leaving the steamer the defendant procured the bank draft and a gold watch and chain from the night clerk to whom the plaintiff had delivered them the previous evening for safe keeping. At the hotel, the defendant, while the police officers were there, compelled the plaintiff to endorse the draft, threatening that unless he did so, he would send him to New Westminster for two years. Defendant then informed plaintiff he would keep the watch, etc., for future advances. The plaintiff claimed damages for the retention of the draft and goods and for the arrest. Defendant put in a counter-claim for moneys advanced, board and whiskey (called by the defendant "goods"), amounting to $178.60. The plaintiff and defendant were the only witnesses examined. The jury returned a verdict for plaintiff for $160, amount of draft, and for a return of the goods, and a verdict for defendant for $103.60 on his counter claim. Mr. Bodwell and Mr. Hall for the plaintiff and Mr. Mills for defendant.

R. Hunter vs. Lowenberg, Harris & Co. This was an action to recover $118, which defendants retained as commission on the sale of plaintiff's house and lot on North Park street. The plaintiff contended that inasmuch as he had sold the property himself the defendants were not entitled to a commission. Judgment for defendants with costs. Mr. Pooley for defendants and Mr. Bodwell for plaintiff.

JOHN NORQUAY DEAD.

The Manitoba Politician Expires Suddenly Yesterday.

[Special to THE TIMES.]

Winnipeg, Man., July 6.—A sudden shock was given to many citizens last night by the announcement that Hon. John Norquay, M. P. P., was dead. Very few had even heard that he was ill, for his sickness was of very short duration and severe. The ex-Premier was taken ill on Thursday night with pains in the abdomen. A doctor was called in, but nothing serious was anticipated until last night, when he was found rapidly sinking. All that it was possible to do under the circumstances for the patient's relief was done, but owing to his extremely weak state the efforts of his physicians unavailed, and at 9:30 he passed away.

Mr. Norquay was born in Manitoba in 1841, and since 1870 has been connected with the government of the province. His death will be a great blow to the Conservative party, with whom he was exceedingly popular. Towards the end Mr. Norquay evidently realized he was dying and made some statements regarding the welfare of his family. The doctors are of opinion that death was caused by fatty degeneration of the heart.

THE FINAL DISSOLUTION.

In the death of the Hon. John Norquay Canada loses one of her ablest politicians and the Conservative party in Manitoba its leader in provincial politics. Although always identified with local politics, Mr. Norquay enjoyed a national reputation. At the head of affairs in Manitoba for many years and intimately associated with the many stirring and rapidly succeeding events leading up to its development, his name and career in later years has become familiar to the whole of Canada. A brief resume of the life of one so well known and who has been so intimately associated with the development of the west will not prove uninteresting. John Norquay was born in Manitoba in May, 1841, of Scottish and Indian parentage. He was educated at St. John's College, in his native province, and while there distinguished himself as a student.

He took an active part in the discussion on the Red River rebellion in 1870, and by the moderation of his views secured the confidence of the authorities as well as of the half-breeds. He was elected to the first Manitoba parliament for High Bluff in 1870, and in December 1871 was appointed minister of public works and agriculture. He resigned with his colleagues in July, 1874, joined the Davis administration in the following year and in 1876 became minister of public works. Two years later he formed an administration with Joseph Royal—the present lieutenant-governor of the Northwest territories—becoming premier and provincial treasurer, which position he held till August three years ago, when he resigned the treasurership and was appointed railway commissioner immediately afterwards. From the time of his election in 1870 he held a seat in the Manitoba legislature, being the only one who has sat in that chamber continuously since its inception. During his public career he has represented the province on several important delegations, and was instrumental in securing an enlargement of its boundaries and an increase of subsidy from the Dominion. There can be no denying that his vigorous railway extension policy has been of great benefit to the province, though in pursuance of it in connection with the construction of the Red River Valley Railroad, it led to a conflict with the Dominion government which culminated in the defeat of his party and the resignation of his government in January, 1888. In connection with this matter Sir John Macdonald has been frequently accused of treachery and ingratitude to an old supporter, but whether this be true or not the policy inaugurated by Mr. Norquay has been carried forward with results which promise to Manitoba great good for the future. The death of Mr. Norquay, at a comparatively early age, is a serious loss to his native province. How great his public services have been will probably never be realized by the majority of the people, though to those who are acquainted with the facts it must be apparent that he lived at a time when he could be most useful and at all times conciliated by his wise counsel and high intelligence a large portion of the community which might have otherwise been exceedingly hard to govern.

LARGE IMMIGRATION.

During the six months ending June, 16,321 immigrants entered Manitoba, as compared with 17,000 for the whole of 1888.

POLICE COURT.

(Before Hon. A. N. Richards, Q. C.)

Jesse Franklin, charged with leaving horses unattended in the street contrary to law, paid a fine of $5.

John McCluskey, charged with stealing a gun valued at $40, was committed for trial.

A case claiming wages was adjourned till Monday.

Encouraging Science.

The Vermont Microscopical Association has just announced that a prize of $250, given by the Wells & Richardson Co., the well-known chemists, will be paid to the first discoverer of a new disease germ. The wonderful discovery by Prof. Koech of the cholera germ, as the cause of cholera, stimulated great research throughout the world and it is believed the liberal prize, offered by a house of such standing, will greatly assist in the detection of micro-organisms that are the direct cause of diseases and death. All who are interested in the subject and conditions of this prize, should write to C. Smith Boynton, M. D., Sec'y. of the Association, Burlington, Vt.

THE SHAH IS ANNOYED

At the Free and Easy Style of the American Press.

San Francisco, July 3.—A special from Washington says: Hadji Hussein Ghouly Kabi, Persian minister, is dissatisfied with America, and will leave Washington for Europe the latter part of next week. He is going to pay his respects to the shah. He cannot tell as yet whether he will return to the United States or not. He is out of conceit with Americans, or more properly, with American newspapers. The press of this country, he says, has too much license. During the past year he has collected through a New York agency, all the newspaper clippings obtainable about the shah. The tenor of these articles, he says, is brutally unjust to his majesty, to whom they have been forwarded, and who is greatly annoyed at them. The minister did not say so in words, but he strongly intimated as a result of these publications, the Persian potentate would withdraw his diplomatic representatives to the United States.

A WONDERFUL MAN.

The Enigma of the Nineteenth Century.

The Magnetic Power of Dr. McLennan a Mystery of the Scientific World.

In this age of scientific advancement wonders are occurring and re-occurring with surprising frequency, but none are more noticeable than the almost incredible cures that have been effected on mankind by the power of animal magnetism. Even the most skeptical are now willing to admit that this subtle power, not cultivated, but natural, has wrought cures that have confounded the medical world. Heretofore this manner of treating stubborn diseases was scoffed at by those who believed the only relief to be obtained was by deluging the system with medicines and leaving behind them a fortune in empty bottles. Others maintained that only weak minded, superstitious beings could be benefitted by such treatment. Now, however, it has been ascertained that even a will of iron and diseases that have long been pronounced incurable have given way under this mysterious and inexplicable influence of magnetism. Many doctors who practice this mode of treatment have gained a world-wide reputation, but the most conspicuous in this long list of successful cures is Dr. McLennan.

EARLY IN LIFE

he gave evidence of his phenomenal mesmeric power that increased in force as he advanced toward manhood. Even before he was aware of the fact he possessed a power that would benefit both himself and those around him he had performed some miraculous cures and it was this early revelation that induced him to develop his singular inheritance and many a suffering human being whom he has treated and cured has reason to bless him for so doing. In every portion of the United States living witnesses of his wonderful curative power are ready to testify to his miraculous and astounding cures, effected without a drop of medicine and permanent in their character. During his sojourn in California he gained a lasting reputation and the local press was filled with sensational accounts of his astonishing cures and superhuman powers. In many instances the cures effected were a surprise even to the doctor himself.

It was not weak-minded individuals who placed themselves under his charge, but even those persons who came for the express purpose of detecting his power, in the fond hope of subjecting him to exposure and ridicule. They were, however, doomed to an agreeable disappointment, and it was from this class of converts that he received the strongest and most conclusive testimony.

When he arrived in Reno, his reputation had preceded him and a number of those who had been suffering with what were denominated incurable diseases, came to consult him, and in the end concluded to go under his care. He fully sustained his world-wide reputation. Relief came immediately. In every instance permanent cures were the result, and many of those who had been tortured with pains for years left his rooms freed forever from the torments to which they had been subjected. R. C. Gordon, a reporter on the Nevada State Journal, who had been suffering for two years with continual rheumatic pains in his right arm, and for which he could find no relief whatever, hearing of Doctor McLennan and his wonderful power, concluded to visit him, not for the purpose of receiving any treatment, but merely to interview him. Mr. Gordon says: "I never had faith in that form of practice, notwithstanding the long list of testimonials that indorsed it and certifying to the wonderful cures that McLennan has wrought."

In the course of the conversation which followed, the visitor inadvertently alluded to the pains in his arm and stated that he had tried everything recommended for such afflictions, but without avail. Dr. McLennan assured him that he could effect a permanent cure, and if he would permit him to do so, he would try it simply as a favor. Acquiesced, more to experience the power of the doctor than for any beneficial effects; but was astonished in less than two minutes to find that the pain had entirely ceased, and though I never visited him again, I have never since that day experienced the slightest pain. The cure was almost instantaneous, and is undoubtedly permanent.

The man is truly a living wonder—a flesh and blood galvanic battery. The shock one receives on touching him is almost as perceptible as that received from a strong battery. There is no delusion. I searched the doctor, hoping to find a battery concealed about his person, but was disappointed. The power is his own—a birthright. He is a living engine. The faith plea will not stand for one moment against his superhuman power. Faith or no faith, the cure will be wrought. His treatment is interesting, simple and pleasant. The doctor is a plain, unassuming Northerner, and does not wear a patient out with unnecessary conversation. He works from the start. No bad effects follow his treatment and no disagreeable medicine must be swallowed. One test of his magnetic influence is sufficient to satisfy the most skeptical mind that its force is potent. Five minutes under his wonderful power is of more benefit than a barrel of medicine. Those who toil for a livelihood are not idle for months watching the slow effects of drugs, but are relieved of their sufferings, and in a condition to follow their occupation in a few days' time.

This article is not written as a newspaper advertisement, but in justice to a doctor who is entitled to every compliment that can be bestowed upon him.—Nevada State Journal.

Dr. McLennan is now in Victoria and solicits all who are interested to call and consult him free of charge. A full line of electrical appliances. Office, Clarence hotel, rooms 8 and 9.

Philadelphia, July 6.—The Cornell University has defeated the university of Pennsylvania crew in a 1½ mile race, Cornell's time 6 mins. 40 sec.; Pennsylvania, 6 mins. 40¼ seconds.

JUSTIFIABLE KILLING.

Murphy, Cal., July 6.—Wm. Holt was shot and instantly killed here last night by A. H. Fennell. Holt was a noted desperado and he was drinking heavily and threatened to kill several persons among them Fennell. He had shot and seriously wounded an Indian early in the evening. Fennell is a mining man of San Francisco, and he had never spoken to Holt. Fennel was examined and discharged to day on the ground that the homicide was justifiable.

THE PRESIDENT'S JOURNEY.

New London, Conn., July 6.—President Harrison arrived here yesterday morning from Woodstock. Crowds gathered at the stations en route. Harrison shook hands with several citizens and spoke briefly.

LIFE ON THE RAIL.

Randolph, N. Y., June 6.—A passenger train collided with a freight on the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio railway near here early this morning. Freight engineer Eismann, of Meadville, Pa., and baggage master Wentz were killed. The firemen of both trains were hurt. The only passenger injured was Fred Lilley, of Jamestown, and his injuries are slight.

A VICTORIOUS RIFLE TEAM.

London, July 6.—The Massachusetts rifle team has won its fifth consecutive victory here, defeating the South London rifle club.

NORTHERN PACIFIC REPORT.

New York, July 6.—Work on the Northern Pacific annual report is in progress and the indications are that the company will have a handsome profit from its branch roads, based on the whole mileage of freight handled and originating on its branches. The earnings of branch lines based on mileage alone show a deficit.

KILRAIN ARRIVES.

New Orleans, July 9—The Kilrain train passed Sidewell, Miss., at 10:03 this morning, ahead of time, and reached here at 11 o'clock. Five hundred people were at the depot and great excitement prevailed.

PEACE AT SAMOA.

Sydney, N.S.W., July 6.—Advices from Samoa state a treaty of peace has been concluded between Mataafa and Tamasese.

Investigation of the charges that the British consulate at Apia had given assistance to Mataafa has been ended and the consul exonerated.

OFFICERS SHOT.

Visalia, July 6.—J. N. Wren, the deputy sheriff shot by Chas. Rosa last night while resisting arrest, died two hours later without recovering consciousness. Rosa is still at large. A hundred well-armed men are on his trail this morning, and it is not expected he will be brought in alive.

CRONIN MURDER CASE.

Chicago, July 6.—The attorney for John T. Beggs, who is under indictment for complicity in the Cronin murder, this morning applied before Judge Tully for a writ of habeas corpus. The judge denied the motion and Beggs remains in jail.

SULLIVAN-KILRAIN.

Excitement High as the Time Approaches for the Mill.

New Orleans, July 6.—Sullivan expressed pleasure this morning that the fight was only 48 hours off. The intense heat and lack of walking exercise is telling on him, and Muldoon admits State interference should prevent the fight taking place for several days it would be necessary to take the champion to Biloxi, or some other watering place on the coast, where the heat would be tempered with a salt breeze and pedestrian exercises would be possible. The managers assert, however, with the same smiling confidence as a week ago that the mill will come off on schedule time and it will be over and all back in the city before either state or local authorities can get within a good many miles of the ring. The latest report is that it will be pitched on one of the islands in place of the river, somewhere in the neighborhood of Slidell, about 30 miles from the city on the North-Eastern road, with which a contract has been made. It is altogether probable this is a near mark, as the point to question is some distance from the county seat and the mill could take place without interruption. Governor Lowry's latest proclamation, offering $1,000 reward for the arrest and delivery of Sullivan and Kilrain in Mississippi, is laughed at by the backers of Kilrain, who say if he knew as much as they do he could save himself some worry and his subordinates a good deal of annoyance. Representatives of Governor Lowry reached here this morning to watch arrangements and notify all sheriffs of counties on the state line when the various trains start, and if possible, to learn their destination. Mississippi troops will go out to-night under command of Col. B. M. Levy and George S. Green. Kilrain's arrival this morning was signalled by one of those terrible storms for which this portion of the state is noted. Rain fell in the streets for over an hour, turning Ravier, St. Charles and other streets in the business centre into a river, flooding stores and driving the occupant to refuge on counters and chairs. A special with Pr. f. Donovan, of New York, President Walmsley of the Southern Athletic club, and the president of the California Athletic club and four others went out at 7:30 this morning to rush Kilrain and party over the Mississippi state line and they returned here again at 11 o'clock.

BOARD OF TRADE AND RECIPROCITY.

With regard to the character of the report of the Board of Trade, it is superfluous to remark that it is a strong reciprocity document, and coming from men who have been staunch supporters of high tariff politicians, the question arises, what are they (the high tariff politicians) going to do about it? Will they reciprocate the new departure, and embarrass Sir John, or will they stand flat-footed on the high tariff platform and sink or swim by it? An expression of opinion opposed to the present policy of the government, emanating from a Board of Trade, particularly at this juncture of Canadian affairs, cannot well be disregarded. It is the fruit of experience, the crystalization of mature judgment. It presents an issue of the most comprehensive character, and our political demigods cannot hope to oppose it with any chance of success on sentimental grounds; they can only upset the heresy by the use of pure reason. Take the "deep sea fisheries", for instance. What arguments can Messrs. Baker, et al, conjure up which will nullify the principle of the "free interchange of all fishery products", so that a British Columbia as well as an American schooner may ship their catch to Chicago or elsewhere. Further, why should we not have reciprocity in lumber, and in a word, why should the people of this province be taxed for the necessaries of life to support an idea which has no business considerations to recommend it? Had the Board of Trade found for any other policy than reciprocity it would have stultified itself. It was a cruel blow this announcement, and so sudden, too. Had it been sprung on the public by mere politicians our "national policy" advocates might have urged that it was an unpatriotic scheme fit to relegate them to private life. Coming, however, from the Board of Trade, the business men of the city, men whose interests are identical with the province, it has a basis on common sense, and Mr Barnard, who, although a national policy advocate, is in favor of admitting mining machinery free, may now expand his reciprocity notions indefinitely. Troubled were the dreams of our M. P.s last night, doubtless. Reciprocity in front of them, high tariff behind them, and no chance to dodge to the right or left. Rebuked for their attitude on the "calling of the China-Japan steamers," and reminded that but meagre appropriations were made for railway construction and harbor improvements, their sins of omission have the lurid conspicuousness of a cigar advertisement. Changes are coming, gentlemen. Common sense must prevail in the long run, and it now remains to be seen whether you will adapt yourselves to the new dispensation or stick to your prejudices for better or worse.

IS THERE TO BE WAR?

In regard to the situation in Europe, the plot thickens, as the novelist would express it. Russia and Austria are glowering at each other, and just at the moment when England should be in a position to interpose her good or bad offices, as the case may be in the event of the clash of arms, she and France must have a spat over the Egyptian question. At first blush it would seem as if England and France would be the last two nations to engage in powder burning, but then when we recollect that this is the alleged policy of Boulanger, and popular in France M. Carnot may undertake to make use of the exiled politician's thunder. It has been pointed out that England, in order to insure her Indian possessions, may support Russia in the coming struggle. This we doubt, for unless the policy of the Russian undergoes a radical change, his success in Europe augments his ability to menace India. To us who know so little of the motives which keep Europe in a ferment, England's best guarantee of unmolestation in India is the maintenance of the status quo in Europe, or in the event of war the complete overthrow of the czar. But the policy England should adopt in case of a Russo-Austrian war, and in the event of a failure to come to an understanding with France on the Egyptian question, no man can determine, and be sure it is the right one. There is only one policy which England can adopt and be sure that she is right, and that is the policy of peace. As Lord Charles Beresford has pointed out, while France can stand defeat at sea without material harm, such would prove the destruction of England, as she would starve to death. It is no longer certain that the British would be invulnerable at sea. The character of sea fighting has radically changed. The days of close action, the strong point of the British sailor, are over. Valorous as ever he was, the English sailor must stand off and be pounded by men perhaps less brave though not improbably less skilful in the mere matter of handling cannon, or, in the event of ramming the enemy the question arises, is not the rammer in as much danger of sinking as the vessel rammed? Anyone who will take the trouble to study the situation, without prejudice, cannot fail to make up his mind that, all things equal, the result of a naval battle is more a matter of chance than valor. France, if all reports are true of her, can stand off Germany and fight England at sea with a fair chance of success. So far as the clock-like precision of the German troops are concerned, it really does not amount to much under fire. If the Germans, through their superior drill and perfection of arrangements, can effect combinations, the French must be beaten by sheer weight of numbers. Meeting on the field, however, with no great disparity of forces, it is no longer a question of discipline in a positive sense, but of the disposition to stand and be shot at. In this respect we do not believe that the Germans are one whit superior to the French. Hence we should suppose that the ability of the French to hold their own against the Germans in a defensive war would simply depend on generalship, a feature in which the French army, just now, is wofully deficient. France, we may infer, therefore, may keep a stiff upper lip in the matter of the Egyptian question, and particularly since Russia and Austria are about to fly at each other. Somehow, since the Egyptian question has come up we regard the prospect of war to be good. The climax of what has long unsettled Europe has been reached. Furthermore, the ultimate of extensive war preparations is war. Nations prepared for war drift into it just as the trained boxer drifts into a prize fight. The climax of dispute reached, the perfection of preparation consummated, and urged by self-interest and vanity, war seems inevitable. If England does take a hand in the fray we hope she will make a good job of it. One complete victory at sea and her foes will never dare engage her again, and she will be at liberty to pursue land operations. Still, if we may regard Lord Beresford as an oracle, England had better avoid hostilities until she can further strengthen her navy, even though she must temporarily abandon Egypt.

HOURS OF RAILWAY SIGNALMEN.

Railway signalmen in England are agitating for a reduction in hours and an increase in wages. The demand seems to be a just one, not only in the interest of the men but in the interest of the travelling public. The men demand that six days shall constitute a week's work for all signalmen. 2. That eight hours per day shall be the maximum number of hours for main-line boxes and in busy shunting yards. 3. That ten hours per day shall be the maximum for branch lines. 4. That the wages shall be 5s, 4s 6d, 4s per day, according to the class of men. He added that in the case of the London and Northwestern Railway during two months there were 739 instances of signalmen being on duty 13 hours; 169, 14 hours; 39, 15 hours; 57, 16 hours; 3, 17 hours, and 4, 18 hours. The Great Western Company during these months had 918 cases of men working 13 hours; 109, 16 hours; 42, 17 hours, and 45, 18 hours. The Midland Company has the blackest record—1,372 cases of 13 hours' duty 1,228 of 14 hours, 638 of 15 hours, 206 of 16 hours, 88 of 17 hours, and 22 of 18 hours and upwards. Altogether there were 7,074 instances in those two months of signalmen working over 13 hours at a stretch—equivalent to 1,7648 in the year; 1,108 over 14 hours, 4395 over 15 hours, 1,855 over 16 hours, 665 over 17 hours, and 708, 18 hours and upwards. A signalman present referred to what might be termed a "quiet country place." There were two men to look after 230 trains, to make 1,500 lever moves, 12,000 telegraph signals and 700 entries in the train book, and all for 23s a week. On roads that work their employes like this, no wonder accidents occur.

PUGET SOUND.

Its Export Trade for the Fiscal Year Just Ended.

The exports of wheat, lumber, flour, wool and coal from Puget Sound to foreign ports and coastwise ports for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1889, shows an unprecedented gain over any previous year since the commerce of the northwest assumed any prominence whatever.

The total number of foreign lumber cargoes that sailed from Port Townsend was 143, an increase of 49 vessels over that of last year. The various mills manufactured 3 059 236,882 feet of lumber valued at $48,127,618, of which 130,420,985 feet valued at $19,191,099.53 was shipped to foreign ports.

The value of the wool exported amounted to $116,460, comprising 396,611 pounds, consigned principally to English markets via the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Flour to the amount of 20,997 barrels, valued at $101,547, was shipped to British Columbia and China.

Wheat shipped to foreign markets amounted to 1,334,098 centals, valued at $1,961,181.

The lumber exports to foreign and domestic ports amounted to 3,059,236,882 feet, valued at $5,427,618.

The shipments of coal amounted to 861,759 tons, valued at $4,911,986.

IN THE SALVATION ARMY.

There Have Been Quite a Number of Revolts of Late.

London, July 4—There have been quite a number of revolts in the Salvation Army of late, and the indications are that Gen. Booth and his lieutenants are losing their grip on the organization. The most serious trouble has occurred at Chipping Norton, where a lieutenant had resigned and established an opposition army, taking with him nearly all his old followers. He has the patronage of the members of the town council, and is nightly proclaiming to public meetings how General Booth misrules his followers.

BREATHING PLACES.

London Anxious to Preserve its Open Places.

London, July 4.—London is waking up to the necessity of preserving its open places for breathing spots for the poor against the encroachments of the new public buildings. The bill for using the site of the old Cold Bath prison came up in the house of commons yesterday, and three members, Viscount Lymington, Mr. Bayford and Mr. Hardy, gave notice that they would oppose the measure on the ground that these nineteen acres should be devoted to recreation grounds for the children of the very poor of the neighborhood. The government will probably consent to a compromise. The Constitution hill is to be thrown open to the public and the county council are considering the proposition to remove the private gates to a number of a hundred or more, that block the entrance to so many London squares. The voice of the poor is making itself heard and the democratic regime in London is well under way.

THE RUDOLPH TRAGEDY.

A Monument That will Recall the Event.

Vienna, July 4.—Something of a sensation has been created in this city by the re-erection in the cemetery of Hellieu Kreuz of a white marble monument bearing this inscription:

Mary, Baroness de Vetsera,
Born 19th March, 1871,
Died January 30, 1889.

Life is a flower, it opens and is plucked.—Job xiv. 2.

The epitaph is a pregnant one. The Crown Prince Rudolph and the Baroness de Vetsera died together; there is no doubt of that, but the mystery of their deaths is known to but few. The cemetery officials will not disclose the names of those at whose instance the monument was erected.

FRANCHISE FOR WOMEN.

Two Million Women of Great Britain Would Like to Vote.

London, July 5—The Fortnightly Review which appeared yesterday, gives a large share of its space to the question of the extension of the parliamentary franchise to women, a bill for which purpose is now before parliament. Some of the opponents of the measure having taken the ground that the women of England were generally opposed to the proposed innovation, the Fortnightly some time ago solicited signatures to a memorial in favor of the bill. Nearly 2,000,000 women have in this way signified their own desire to vote.

—Mrs M. Stephens, of Albany, N. With the use of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery this unpleasantness has all been removed, and I now eat what suits my taste or fancy."

It is a peerless remedy also for Constipation, Liver Complaint, Kidney troubles, and roots out all impurities from the blood.

The sufferer from scrofula, with sores as bad as Job's, need not now curse the day he was born, for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will restore health and beauty, appetite and strength. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing salt-rheum, tetter, boils, carbuncles, sore eyes, scrofulous sores and swellings, hip joint disease, white swellings, goitre, or thick neck, and enlarged glands.

ALASKA MINING NEWS.

The Glacier, Silver Queen, Sunnyside and Bear's Nest Locations.

From the Juneau Free Press.

Work has been commenced on the Glacier location on Sharp Creek. Two tunnels, each fifty feet or more in length will be run to two different veins, and it is thought that the tunnels will start in on ore that will pay to ship.

Ten tons of ore taken from the Silver Queen, on Sheep creek were sent down on the Elder to the Tacoma smelter.

A sample of ore from the Sunnyside the rich find at Holkom bay, was sent down on the Elder, and a thorough test will be made of it.

The Eastern Alaska Mining Co. are now busily engaged in hauling their machinery and timbers to their mill site in the Basin. Their plant consists of a 10-stamp mill and a tramway several hundred feet in length, and it will take a large force of men the greater part of the summer to get it in running order.

The Newell Gold Co. are now at work on their tramway, which runs from their basin properly to their mill site in the lower basin. It is about two miles long, new German system Bleichert cable trams, and is capable of doing a large amount of work.

The Bear's Nest Co. received a large amount of machinery on the Elder, and are pushing their works ahead as rapidly as possible. The A. M. & M. Co.'s saw mill is running night and day, sawing timbers for the mill. A railroad track has been laid from the saw mill to to the mill site, and a small locomotive will will haul the timber to their place.

Mr. R. A. Beyers, tramway engineer for the Nowell Gold Company, paid us a pleasant visit this week. Mr. Beyers informs us that it is going to take more time to complete the tramway then was at at first expected on account of having no means of transporting their materials other than on the tramway itself, and as they can only work at one place at a time they cannot work as large a force of men as was formerly intended. He also says there will be no difficulty in getting it into good working order.

Mr. N. A. Fuller, formerly general superintendent of the A. M. & M. Co., west west below on the Elder, and will make a visit to his old home in the East. Mr. Fuller has resided in Alaska for some nine or ten years, and is a very capable and energetic man, and one who is well respected.

Dr. H. S. Wyman is now busily engaged in doing solid development work on his basin property.

Mr. Mein, the new superintendent of the A. M. & M. Co., arrived on the Elder and has taken charge of the works.

LULU ISLAND.

A New Manse and New Hall—School Examination, &c.

From our own Correspondent.

Frequent showers have visited this locality during the past week and have greatly revived roots and vegetables. Farmers are now pitching into the hay which promises to be a good crop, but the grasshoppers are playing havoc with the oats and wheat crop.

The Presbyterians are building a fine manse for the Rev. Mr. Jaffray, who is expected to take charge of this mission about the beginning of August. Mr. J. B. Elliott has the contract for the building, which is to be located near the handsome little church on Sea Island, and will cost about $1200.

Mr. Steves, on the South Arm, is putting up a fine hall, 40 by 80 feet, which will have a fine stage and be otherwise fitted up in good style for the conveniences of public entertainments. The new town site of which Mr. Steves is the owner, is beginning to attract considerable attention and already several lots have been disposed of at good prices.

The piles for the North Arm bridge are expected to be put on the grounds this week and the work of construction commenced forthwith.

The Lulu school examination was held on Friday forenoon last, at which a large number of prizes were awarded to the pupils of the school. The honor rolls were distributed as follows: General proficiency, Walter Vermilyea; punctuality and regularity of attendance, Wilber H Garratt; deportment, Pearl Robinson. About 21 visitors were present, amongst whom were the trustees of the school and the Rev. S. J. Thompson, Methodist minister, who paid the teacher and pupils a high compliment on the efficient state of the school. Miss Ada Sweet also received congratulations on having successfully passed the recent entrance examination for the high school. The ladies had kindly provided an excellent lunch and the afternoon was spent in feasting, recitations, speeches and music, in which visitors and school took a lively interest. A vote of thanks was tendered the ladies for their trouble, also to Mr. Kinney, the teacher, for the deep interest he had manifested in the school during the past year and who has been re-engaged for another term.

NEGATIVES OF A MIRAGE.

Minor W. Bruce Will Photograph a Wonderful Apparition.

Minor W. Bruce, special correspondent of the New York Tribune, departed this week for Glacier bay, says the Alaska Free Press, to make an attempt to get negatives of the wonderful mirage which appears there in the bosom of the Pacific glacier. He is accompanied by R. G. Willoughby, who is the only white man who has ever as yet seen the wonderful apparition, and who has already taken two negatives of the city. Pictures printed from these negatives can be seen at DeGroff's photograph gallery, and all artists who have yet seen them pronounce them pictures taken from a mirage or shadow and not from a real substantial object. It is to be hoped that the weather will be favorable upon Mr. Bruce's arrival at the place, and that he will be so fortunate as to see the mirage. It must be clear weather, and is then seen only for two or three days in the longest days in June, and is best seen when the sun is going down behind the Fairweather mountains and the moon is rising in the east. Other mirages of ships, islands and glaciers have been seen by other men who are at present at Juneau, and if the reflection of this strange city can be seen and presented to the world, it will be one of the greatest wonders of the age.

North Gabriola School.

The examination of the North Gabriola school was held on the 17th June —Miss Clunas, teacher. There was quite a number of visitors present. The school room was tastefully decorated for the occasion with flowers and evergreens, for which thanks are due the teacher and pupils. The scholars, too, were apparelled in unison with the room and looked a trim and dainty little band.

The exercises, comprising all the branches taught in the school, interspersed with songs, recitations, etc, were gone through in quite a praiseworthy manner. Before the close Miss Clunas volunteered a substantial special prize, to be competed for in some difficult figuring in arithmetic. Sarah Hoggan was the successful competitor. At the close the rolls of honor were presented by Mr. McCoy to the following: Proficiency, Sarah J. Hoggan; deportment, John Eastham; punctuality, Robert Hoggan. Then followed the prizes and presents. Each one who did not gain a prize had a present of a book, and so the term closed, all seeming well pleased. J. M.

Alaska Mails.

Is there any good reason why the Victoria and British Columbia mail matter for Alaska and northern British Columbia, via Wrangel, should not be put on board the steamers at this city or Nanaimo, whichever at the time happened to be the last port of call on the voyage. At present all the mail is sent to Port Townsend, where the steamer sometimes takes them on board three or four days before leaving for the north. The result is that the accumulations of these three or four days are delayed for two weeks or a month, according to the frequency of the trips, when they might just as well be forwarded from this city. We are sure if Hon. Mr. Haggert's attention were called to the matter that the grievance would be rectified, as there can be no insuperable obstacle in the way. Mere official red-tapeism, at least, should not stand in the way of public convenience. We suggest to the Board of Trade, which meets to-morrow, that proper representations should be made to the Postmaster General in the direction here suggested.

Rascal Caught.

The rascal wanted for stabbing the Indian boy Charlie at the drill shed, New Westminster, on Thursday night, has been caught. He is no other than Henry Dominy, a youth long known as a very mischievous character in this city. The chain of evidence connecting him with the crime is complete, and proves the intention. After stabbing the boy he approached a lad named Woods and tried to get his knife off on to him. Woods saw blood on the blade and refused to take it, and Dominy left the building and went home. A brother of the boy Charley saw the stabbing done, but did not think it was serious and therefore said nothing until Dominy had escaped. Charlie also identifies Dominy as the person who stabbed him. Dominy has a very black record for a youth of 18. While in Kamloops he fired two shots out of a revolver at a boy named Woods, but, fortunately, neither shot took effect. Only a few months ago he threatened that he would shoot one of his employers. Last summer he sent a slung shot through the hat of a gentleman who was walking with a lady on Columbia street. If the shot had struck lower the result might have been fatal. There are many other such charges which might be brought against him, but these will suffice to give the general character of the boy.—Columbian.

British Fortifications.

Senator Hoar has been interviewed and expressed certain opinions in regard to the proposed fortifications at Esquimalt, and in the interview says there is not any cause to apprehend danger to this country from the act of England alluded to. In commenting on the senator's remarks the Salt Lake Daily Herald of a late date says:

In the opinion of Senator Hoar, as expressed in the associated press dispatches the other morning, there is nothing for this country to fear in the formidable fortifications which the British government is erecting at Esquimalt. The senator says the situation does not possess the natural advantages necessary to make the scheme a menace to the United States. In this connection there are some things which apparently have not occurred to the distinguished senator, but which other people will be apt to bear in mind. One of these is that it would be just as well to get the opinion of the military and naval officials, as that of a gentleman who knows nothing of the science of war save what he has learned in the halls of congress and making political speeches. Another is the fact that Great Britain is not in the habit of constructing immense and costly fortifications which will be of no avail to her. If there is a nation on earth which understands the science of war in all its bearings, and which knows the points on the globe which will be advantageous in the event of war, it is Great Britain which has selected Esquimalt as the one place on the Pacific coast for sea-sweeping fortifications. Senator Hoar may be well up in statesmanship, but there are better authorities than he as to war matters.

Admiral the Duke of Edinburgh, who is notoriously responsible for the disgraceful loss of the fine ironclad Sultan off the Maltese coast, has just been forced by popular resentment in England to go through the form of a court-martial. Everything, however, was done by the authorities to make matters pleasant for him in connection with the matter. When he boarded the flagship on which the court was being held the band played the National anthem, the royal standard was hoisted at the main and the Admirals constituting the court-martial received him at the gangway with obsequious bows, hat in hand. And lest his feelings should in any way have been hurt by the shame of being forced to appear before a court-martial, the Queen, his mother, careless of the fact that the charges of negligence brought against him were still sub judice, actually went so far as to convey upon him the Grand Cross of the Bath.

Reconsidered and finally passed the Council this 27th day of June, A. D. 1889.

THE BRITISH COLUMBIA FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.

TAKES RISKS ON THE CASH OR MUTUAL PLANS.

As this is a Home Company, organized by British Columbians for the two-fold purpose of giving cheap insurance and keeping the money in this Province, it commends itself to the support of every insurer desiring the prosperity of this country.

In Ontario, the system of insurance, which is similar to that adopted by this Company, has been in highly successful operation for the past fifty years, and it has proved to be a great advantage to every insurer in it, by reducing the cost of insurance, and it is estimated that now three-fourths of the insurance effected in Ontario is carried by mutual companies.

Towering Skywards.

The walls of the new church for St. Andrew's Presbyterian congregation are rapidly approaching completion and in two weeks will be finished. After that a brick tower rising fifty feet will be erected. It is now learned that over 1,000,000 bricks will be used in the construction of this sacred edifice.

New Brick.

Work has commenced for the erection of a fine brick on Johnson street for Mr. Wm Grimm. The building will be three stories and basement and the cost will approximate $12,000. It will cover a lot 60x120. In about two weeks the premises will be ready for brick laying and inside of three months will stand as a monument of enterprise to the enterprising owner.

K. of P. Installation.

At a meeting of the Knights of Pythias held last evening, the following officers were installed by Acting Supreme Deputy B. H. John: S. L. Redgrave, P. C.; J. M. Hughes, C. C.; A. Lewis, V. C.; A. Black, P.; H. A. Duke, M.-at-A.; J. Byrne, I. G.; S. Arnold, O. G. The order is rapidly increasing in numbers in Victoria. During the past term it received a considerable accession to its membership and we learn that at an early date the members will procure a uniform.

A Worthy Object.

A meeting will be held this evening at eight o'clock sharp, in the office of Mr. J. L. Beckwith (over Pennock & Clayton's) for the purpose of forming a local rifle association. All interested are requested to attend and it is hoped as many as possible will make it a point to be present. There is no more manly sport than rifle shooting and few places where there are more good shots than Victoria, so that there is no reason why we should not have a first class association.

From San Francisco.

The City of Puebla arrived at 9 o'clock last night from San Francisco, after a quick but tempestuous voyage of sixty hours. She brought 24 passengers and 155 tons of freight for this port. Her route to the east via the C. P. R. were 400 tons of freight. Some idea of the traffic going on at present may be gleaned from the fact that her entire passenger list numbered 169 and the freight aggregated 1894 tons, of which Seattle merchants, replenishing their stocks, took 804 tons, which was far in advance of the amount to any other port on the route.

Youthful Honors.

Supt. Sheppard has decided to withdraw his son Charlie, aged seven years, from future competition at the St. Andrew's picnic for the best dressed boy in Highland costume. The little fellow in his Stuart tartan has won first prize for three successive years and will now rest on his laurels. The lad's photograph will be taken in costume with his medals and presented to the St. Andrew's and Caledonian society. His father's only regret is that the boy did not receive a badge at the late Scotch picnic instead of a brooch, so that his name could be inscribed on it.

Rather Interesting Case.

A case of interest to societies generally has just been tried at Nanaimo before Mr. Justice Crease. L. Page brought action against John Hilbert to recover $12 60 being money paid by plaintiff to defendant to become a member of Plato lodge of United Order of Honor. The application of Page to become a member of the lodge was refused but his initiation fee was not returned to him. This he sued to recover. After hearing some very lengthy evidence proving that the money was paid to Hilbert, his lordship gave judgment for plaintiff, and mentioned several others to whom the same amounts were due, and also suggested that the remainder of the funds of the lodge in the hands of the treasurer be equally divided among the members of the late lodge.

Board of Trade Officers.

A complete list of Board of Trade officers, a portion of which was published last evening, is as follows:

Mr. Robt. Ward, president; Mr. T. B. Hall, vice-president.

Mr. Ward expressed his pleasure at the selection of Mr. Hall.

Mr. W. Monteith was re-elected secretary.

The following, as a result of ballot, were elected the council: A. A. Green, R. P. Rithet, Thos. Earle, A. C. Flumerfelt, E. A. McQuade, M. T. Johnston, R. B. Crossdaile, D. W. Higgins.

The following were elected arbitrators: J. M. Todd, R. G. Fyfe, H. F. Heisterman, J. S. Yates.

The following gentlemen were nominated and elected as members of the board: James Dunsmuir, Alex. Dunsmuir, William Grant, Theodore Davie, Q. C.; F. G. Richards, Jr.; Francis Boggs, W. J. Macaulay.

A "Wretched" Wretch.

The "wretched reporter" of the News says: "The tables as a triumph of artistic arrangement and the floral embellishments would have done credit to the most recherche and fashionable gathering." What kind of a gathering was this gathering at Hotel Vancouver but a recherche and fashionable gathering? The "wretched" reporter would lead us to believe that the "floral embellishments" were in excess of the professional and social standing of the participants—fit for the royal family, in fact. If there had been nobody but printers and reporters present, with an editor here and there to insure all hands keeping sober, the "floral embellishments would have done credit to the most recherche and fashionable gathering," but since the recherche and fashionable gathering were already present, what is the reporter going to do about it? But he has our sympathy. When writing against time, and that too in the weary hours before sunrise, the "wretched" reporter cannot always be expected to say the right thing in the right place.

CHEMAINUS SPORTS.

The Games on the Fourth of July—The Prize Winners.

The following is the programme of sports carried out at Chemainus on July 4th:

Foot race, 100 yards—Harry Hague, 1st, 11 seconds.

Running long jump—H. C. Macaulay, 1st, 14 ft.; J. Magary, 2nd, 12 ft. 6 in.

Sack race, 100 yds—D. W. Maingay, 1st; H. Bonsall, 2nd; G. Porter, 3rd.

Three legged race—J. Warnick and J. Cathcart, 1st; D. Magillvary and E. Demaul, 2nd.

Immense excitement was caused by Mr. Frank Lloyd climbing a greasy pole, 20 feet for a game rooster. Everybody in Chemainus and vicinity turned out to witness the sports, and everyone in the evening expressed themselves as highly delighted with the manner in which the committee carried out the arrangements. The committee was composed of Mayor Grey, Harry Hague and Jas. Cathcart. In the evening, a grand ball was given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Endean, at which assembled about thirty couple. Amongst those present were Mayor Grey, Mrs Grey, the Misses Grey, Master Grey, H Hague, Mrs Hague, Miss McMeekin, Miss D Roberts, Miss A Askew, Miss Williams, the Misses Hague, the Misses Rundle, Mrs Magary, Mr Magary, Mr H Macaulay, Mr J Cathcart, Mr P Doyle, Mr J La Chapple, Mr W Ender, Mr J Hewitson, Mr E Bangs. At 12 o'clock the guests sat down to a sumptuous supper, at which was everything to tempt the inner man. Supper over, dancing was indulged in until the small hours, when a cheer for the host and hostess was given and everybody went home well pleased with the day's enjoyment.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

LACROSSE.

The "Victorias" will commence regular practice again next Monday evening at 7 p.m. on the Hill.

The boys should not feel too much elated over their recent victory and give up practice. If they turn out as regularly, and work hard to a man as was the case previous to the last match, there will be no reason why they should not remain the championship team. Many would like to see a match arranged with the New Westminster team, some time soon, after which a game could be arranged with the Vancouver team to take place in the Caledonian grounds.

AQUATIC.

The Sydney Referee, in speaking of the departure of Henry E. Searle, the world's champion sculler, for England, says: When Beach started the success of his career in England was never doubted by all who knew him, but Searle's marvelous record counts even greater confidence in his prospects of victory. Never in the annals of rowing, or in fact any other branch of athletics, has a succession of wins been scored in so short a space of time as by Harry Searle. In eight short months he emerged from obscurity to the topmost rung of the ladder in the rowing world. Since his win at Brisbane, Searle has been anxious to hear from the American scullers, and the news that O'Connor had covered his deposit of £100 was received with welcome. By arriving in London next month the champion will have the best of the English climate to train in, and the change will probably have a beneficial effect upon him. We have been used to see him row at about 161 pounds, but he expects to scale fully 168 pounds in his contest with O'Connor. It is hardly likely that the Australian will create a favorable impression with the Thames rowing men, as the straight-back style of sculling is regarded as the correct thing amongst them. Searle's peculiar habit of carrying the head rather low and his habit of bending his right wrist will also be sure to cause adverse comment. However, should the Clarence "Comet" choose to indulge in one of those lightning spurts that have, on more than one occasion, electrified the few privileged onlookers on the Paramatta course, the probability is the Thames water men will be convinced that elegance in style is not essential to speed. Very little is known here of O'Connor's style of sculling or his performances. From the accounts that have reached us it appears he sits well up in his boat and moves very gracefully. He is stated to possess the science of Edward Hanlan, with much greater strength. This may or may not be, but one thing is certain, he will have to be a considerable improvement in every way on the ex-champion or his chance of wresting the title from our representative will be a mighty poor one. In Searle Australia possesses the fastest sculler yet seen on the Paramatta, and if the American can beat him O'Connor will be well worthy of being considered the world's champion.

SEATTLE HOSE TEAM.

The Seattle fire boys left on the Premier yesterday for home. They were feeling good, and, as the steamer put out, were inclined to be facetious. There were several cheers, but when somebody proposed one for Vancouver it provoked a volley of hisses, varied by cry of "rats," and was counteracted by cheers for "Seattle," and the "Tremont" and "Westminster."—News-Advertiser.

VERY BASEBALL.

Victoria baseballists may think they know something about the game in base running and big scores. Emerson, Man., and Pembina, Dak., are the champions. In a recent game the score stood 67 to 66, Pembina scoring 27 in one inning.

LACROSSE.

The lacrosse club will begin regular practice again on Monday evening. A full turn out is requested.

TO-DAY'S MATCH.

In the match of baseball to-day between Kamloops and Amities, at 4:15 four innings had been played—Kamloops seven runs to Victoria's one.

REVOLUTIONIZED.

The Southern Pacific Railway to Mine its Own Coal at Comox.

Col. C. F. Crocker, Vice-President of the Southern Pacific Company, on his return to San Francisco from this city, announced the completion of arrangements for the future coal supply of the entire Southern Pacific system, that will revolutionize the coal trade of this coast and have considerable effect on the shipping business. Henceforth all the coal used by the railroad will be mined at Vancouver Island by the company and brought down in their steam colliers. Mr. Dunsmuir is interested with the Southern Pacific in the mines, and he will put the surplus on the local market for steam and domestic use. In speaking of the importance of this change to an Examiner reporter, Colonel Crocker said: "My business at Comox this trip was almost exclusively looking after the development of our coal mines there, and I arranged to supply all of our engines and ships. Since the Mount Diablo mine closed down nearly all of the coal used in this state has been imported from Australia and England. The sum that the Southern Pacific Company alone has sent out of the country for coal has been enormous. Hereafter that money will be kept in our own hands. There were several reasons for our making special efforts to get a permanent source of coal supply in our own hands and by water communication."

Perjurer Arrested.

The Chinaman, who some weeks ago swore out a warrant against a Chinese woman, charging her with theft in New Westminster, for the purpose of having her returned to that city, was arrested at Vancouver a few days ago on a charge of perjury while in the act of taking passage for China.

Licensing Court.

The Licensing Court sat again at 12 noon to-day, to hear evidence as to the petition presented by Mr. Fox for a license to sell liquors by wholesale and retail on Cormorant street. After certain evidence had been given the court took until noon on Tuesday next to decide whether the petition is in order or not.

Contract Awarded.

Mr. M. Humber to-day received the contract for the erection of a two-storey brick building with basement, on lower Fort street, for J. J. Southgate Esq. The figures are in the neighborhood of $6,000.

The award for A. A. Green's new brick building has not yet been made, although the tenders are all in.

Striking Similarity.

A short time ago a red-haired woman giving the name of Mrs. Minerva Allen was arrested in this city and charged with firing the Occidental hotel. The case was dismissed. In Tacoma on Wednesday last Mrs. Minnie Allen, the red-haired woman, who was indicted by the grand jury for burglary and grand larceny, was brought over to the court room from the county jail. The attorneys in the case were not ready and she was not arraigned. She will be arraigned next Friday.

Steamer Change.

The negotiations pending between the O. R. & N. Co. and the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway company for the chartering of the steamer City of Topeka have fallen through, and that steamer will not come here. Instead, however, the company has secured J. B. Montgomery's steamer Michigan, of Portland, and will begin loading her at once for Sound and way points. The Alaskan trade is very large, but not anything like so heavy as trade along the coast and on the western part of Puget Sound. The Michigan is a new vessel and will carry 800 tons of freight. She is nothing like so fine a vessel as the City of Topeka, but for all practical purposes will fill the bill nearly as well. The company will now run the steamer every six days.
